

CIVIL & COMMERCIAL LITIGATION

Our Civil & Commercial Litigation attorneys represent businesses of all sizes and individuals pursuing or defending claims. Our attorneys draw on their diverse experience and the firm's multidisciplinary approach to represent businesses and business owners across a wide range of industries including manufacturing, professional services, real estate and construction in all areas of civil and commercial litigation. We also counsel clients on identifying risk and creating proactive strategies to minimize the threat of potential litigation.

While our litigators have extensive trial experience before state, federal and appellate courts, as well as before administrative agencies, our goal is to resolve disputes prior to a hearing or trial. Our attorneys are also highly experienced in alternative dispute resolution, including mediation and arbitration. We prepare each case as if it is going to trial, so that we are always in the strongest possible position when trying to negotiate a favorable settlement prior to trial. Our attorneys practice a "no surprises approach" by keeping our clients fully informed throughout the process to minimize the unexpected.

At Meyers Roman, we are mindful of the balance between cost-effective representation and strong positioning and believe that there is not one traditional approach that fits every case. We distinguish ourselves by taking the time to understand each client's goals, assess the strengths of the case and evaluate the risks to determine the best possible route to achieving their goals. In doing so, we are able to assess realistic expectations and set practical budgets.
