

Legal Innovation for a Digital Frontier

Meyers Roman has been at the forefront of blockchain and cryptocurrency legal services since 2012. Our attorneys combine deep technical insight with proven business acumen to support corporations, startups, and individuals navigating this fast-moving space.

Full-Spectrum Legal Guidance

Supporting Growth, Innovation & Compliance

We advise clients on:

- Blockchain technology & crypto transactions. Mining, energy procurement, token development, and digital asset protection
- Corporate structure & commercialization. IP-focused entity formation, strategic partnerships, licensing, and marketing
- Regulatory navigation. ICO compliance, securities and commodities laws, and banking regulations
- Privacy & cybersecurity. AML policies, data protection, nondisclosure, and non-compete agreements
- Dispute resolution. Proven litigation counsel for plaintiffs and defendants

Our multidisciplinary team ensures every angle is covered—business, legal, and technical.

Industry-Focused Strategy

Decentralized Doesn't Mean Disconnected

Whether advising blockchain innovators, mining companies, payment platforms, or VR asset creators, our attorneys work collaboratively to craft tailored legal solutions.

We regularly partner with:

- Tech developers (dApps, software, tokenized assets)
- Financial & consumer services
- E-commerce platforms
- Mining groups & equipment providers
- Virtual reality & entertainment ventures
