Anne Meyers is a seasoned attorney and entrepreneur whose legal insight is rooted in over 40 years of practice and real-world business ownership. She founded Meyers Roman in 1995 and led its strategic growth for more than 15 years. Her background as a principal in construction materials, surety, insurance adjusting, and retail businesses gives her an edge in resolving complex legal and operational challenges – especially where law intersects with personal dynamics and business strategy.

Anne’s reputation as a thoughtful mediator and pragmatic advisor has made her an invaluable resource to family-owned companies, growth-stage businesses, and clients facing high-stakes disputes. She is known for favoring resolution over litigation – achieving favorable outcomes while preserving relationships and minimizing cost.

Anne’s practice centers on:

- Business structuring and succession planning
- Construction and surety disputes
- Venture capital negotiations and asset protection
- Informal mediation and dispute resolution
- Legal counsel for expanding architecture and sports organizations

Her ability to blend legal, operational, and interpersonal insight allows her to navigate the most sensitive business transitions – especially for family-run enterprises.
